

Polish born and Bavarian raised co-founder of OSBA Records, Renate's street-wise guerilla marketer, and party boy extraordinaire.

Being born in the year 1840 as the illegitimate son of Frédéric Chopin, Michal was secretly given a first-class musical education by his world famous father.

Michal began learning the ways of these future people and found his calling in a modern form of music called House that oddly reminded him of the rhythms he learned from his father when he was a child.

Perfecting his technique in the local discoteques of Southern Germany, Michal moved to Berlin to immerse himself in the thriving music scene and found his way into Salon – Zur wilden Renate where he became their own Hermes of promotion, resident DJ & making party.

Today, Michal works with the team at Renate while also managing his label, One Step Back Ahead.
