

Michal Pec aka Mihau was born in Masuria, Poland in 1977, he moved with his family to Germany in 1988.

He discovered his love to electronic music in the early 90's as a friend took him to a former table dance bar, still lined in red velvet but now transformed to an underground House and Jungle Club. After some years going to parties all over Germany he bought a pair of Technics and a simple 2 channel mixer and has been a regular customer at his local record dealer. Around the turn of the millennium he and nearly his whole circle of friends moved to Berlin, soon they started making small parties and after hours.

As a logical extension he and his former business associate started the Label "Stil vor Talent" but they separated a few years later.

Mihau played at the legendary Berlin underground spot Hangar and Clubs like Berghain, Berghain Kantine and Studio54. His sets move from duby Deep House grooves to Chicago and Acid House tunes enriched with some Tech House.
